KOLKATA MONSOON SEASON 2025 – SHORT BUT SURE TO SIZZLE

The Royal Calcutta Turf Club (RCTC), steeped in tradition and known for its vibrant racing culture, has unveiled a compact yet potentially captivating Monsoon Racing Season 2025, comprising just ten race days. This abbreviated fixture list—possibly the shortest in the Club's storied history—is expected to deliver high-quality, competitive racing across its two-month span.

Despite the curtailed calendar, the excitement quotient remains undiminished. A strong contingent of sixteen 'A' licensed trainers, backed by a string of over 200 local horses, will battle it out on the lush green turf. Adding further depth and flavour to the season, approximately 50 outstation horses are also expected to compete, under the care of a few capable 'B' licensed trainers, with Rajesh Narredu heading the list of visiting professionals.

Among the local stables, Aashay Doctor, Neil Darashah, and Rutherford Alford appear to be particularly well equipped, with numerically superior and quality-laden strings. These outfits are expected to dominate proceedings, although other stables are by no means pushovers and could spring a few surprises as the season unfolds.

On the riding front, the season promises to be just as electric. Most of the leading names from the Indian jockeys' circuit are slated to take part, ensuring a fierce battle for supremacy in the saddle.

The local stalwarts, Imran Chisty and R. Vaibhav, both known for their consistency and race reading skills at this venue, are expected to hold their own and possibly even steal the limelight.

Meanwhile, the track at RCTC, known for its fair racing surface, has been expertly manicured and prepared to withstand the challenges posed by the monsoon rains and the thunderous galloping of hooves. The ground staff deserve a special mention for ensuring that the racing strip is in optimal condition.

With a blend of top-class trainers, quality thoroughbreds, and seasoned jockeys vying for honours, the Kolkata Monsoon Season 2025 may be brief, but it promises to pack a punch in terms of excitement, intrigue, and potential windfalls for punters.
